<h2>Youth Growth Stock Trust Scholarships Criteria</h2>

The United Way Youth Growth Stock Trust has established scholarships for high school seniors enrolled in Cumberland County Schools and are registered in a Health Science Curriculum and plan to pursue a nursing or other health related career. The scholarship awards will be $1,000 each. Students must meet the following criteria:

- Currently a Cumberland County Schools high school senior enrolled in an advanced level Health Science Education course.
- Applied or enrolled in a nursing or other health-related program at Fayetteville Technical Community College, Sandhills Community College, Fayetteville State University, Methodist University, Campbell University or University of North Carolina at Pembroke.
- Agree to work in a health-related field in North Carolina for at least three years.
- Official transcript must be submitted to your Health Science Instructor.
- Complete a 250 word essay explaining student's goals, education and career expectations.
- Complete an application, answering all questions in the space provided. Other attachments will not be considered in the selection process.
- Completed application via Google form 2018 United Way - Allied Health Scholarship Application and transcripts are due by May 25, 2018 to the Health Science Instructor to ensure they are in the CTE office by the due date. A Cumberland County Scholarship Selection Committee will select the winners.

Upon selection:

1. Student will receive a letter from Cumberland County Schools / CTE acknowledging the scholarship award.
2. Student will notify Fayetteville Technical Community College, Sandhills Community College, Fayetteville State University, Methodist University, Campbell University or University of North Carolina at Pembroke about the scholarship.
3. The college you attend will need to request funds from the Cumberland County Schools' Finance Department.
